Objectif : rester informé des évolutions techniques afin d'améliorer le code et la performance de l'application.

Axe 2 – Développement web général

Ce flux est consacré aux tendances globales du web (CSS, JavaScript, accessibilité, frameworks, bonnes pratiques de sécurité).

The screenshot displays a web development feed interface. On the left is a sidebar for 'solene's Feedly' with navigation options: Today, Follow Sources, Create AI Feed, Search, Read Later, and Recently Read. Below these are 'Feeds' categorized by 'All' (74 items) and 'AI' (10 items). A 'développement web gen...' category is expanded, showing sources like freeCodeCamp Program... (10), MongoDB | Blog (9), Node Weekly (4), React Native Blog (10), and React Status (5). Another 'développement web tech...' category has 26 items, with 'CSS-Tricks' selected, showing 10 items. Below the feeds are 'Boards'. The main content area features an 'Upgrade' button and a 'CSS-Tricks' feed with 115K followers and 3 articles per week. It lists 'Most popular' articles: 'Getting Creative With shape-outside' by Andy Clarke (3d), 'What Can We Actually Do With corner-shape?' by Daniel Schwarz (27d), and 'Composition in CSS' by Zell Liew (31d). A date separator 'Oct 1, 2025' is shown, followed by 'Same Idea, Different Paint Brush' by Geoff Graham (8d). A final date separator 'Sep 29, 2025' is at the bottom. On the right, a 'You might also' section recommends 'Envato' (77K followers), 'Playgrc' (589 followers), and 'CSS-PI' (108 followers), with an 'Explore' button.
